TO PRESENT FARM SURVEY TO BOARD

Will Cite Figures to Commission in Plea for Lower Freight Rates.

Special to The News-Times.
NILES, Mich., May 12.—A recent survey conducted by the Michigan Agricultural College is endeavoring to show that in Berrien, as well as in other adjoining counties of Michigan, the capital invested in farms had earned a bare 4 1/2 percent in 1921, and to show that the average net income of Michigan farmers was $490 in 1921. The survey will be presented to the state public utilities commission by the Michigan Traffic League as a part of its appeal for lower freight rates. H. B. McKilough, a demonstrator for the college, who prepared the survey, admitted, however, that nearly all the farmers included owned automobiles. The body of Francis Chapman Ford, noted anatomist of Chicago and a former resident of this city, who died Wednesday, was brought to Niles Thursday afternoon and taken directly from the Michigan Central station to Silver Brook cemetery. Mr. Ford was born in this city on June 26, 1865. In 1890 he graduated from the Homeopathic Medical School at the University of Michigan, and afterwards practiced in Niles for a year. He then removed to Chicago, where he became an anatomist at the Chicago Medical college in 1897, which position he continued to hold until 1914. He was also professor and head of the department of anatomy at Hahnemann Medical college in Chicago from 1904-1914. On July 15, 1890, he was married to Ida Harriet Larimore of Niles, a daughter of J. C. Larimore, pioneer Niles druggist, and a member of the local firm of Larimore and Dean. Besides his widow, Mr. Ford is survived by one son.

ASKS FOR TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

Former Indiana Convict Said to Have Killed Sister-in-Law in 1903.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 12.—John P. Carrington, appeared Friday in the office of John Lewman, state's attorney and asked to be tried on the charge of murdering his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Carrington, 19 years ago.

According to Carrington's story he served two years in the Indiana penitentiary for manslaughter as a result of killing Wesley Niece and Bayers Ewart in a Terre Haute Saloon in 1898. While living there, he told state's attorney his mother sent him to the saloon to get his brother. A quarrel started and during the fight he killed the two men. He was paroled and came to Danville, and with one month of the parole yet to serve, he killed his sister-in-law Aug. 5, 1903, he said.

It was the fear of being compelled to serve out the rest of the time in the Indiana prison, even if acquitted on the charge of murder, that caused him to flee, he says.

Carrington who has been living under an assumed name in Utah and Colorado since the killing said he had returned in order to clear his name and in order that his two sons, one 13 years old and the other 11, might bear their rightful names. He also wished to see his mother, now 80 years old, living here.

George Carrington, husband of the slain woman, was tried and acquitted of the charge and John disappeared, but the indictment against him was nolleed with leave to refile. He says the killing was in self-defense.
